

INVITATION for a free WEB-SEMINAR
On Wednesday April 07, 19:00-19:45 (CET)
The great pretender: a disease with many faces.

Dear colleagues,

Today we would like to invite you to our next web-seminar in our English-language online series on "The great pretender: a disease with many faces"

In this webinar, we will discuss a case of a 2-year old Labradoodle with diarrhoea and various laboratory changes, which do not quite seem to fit together. We will also be covering the pathophysiology, cause of symptoms, as well as the diagnostic and therapeutic approach to the disease.

SPEAKER

Dr Anne Jasensky, Lecturer, Clinical Pathology, Royal Veterinary College, London, UK
